

How to upload a full text version of an article to Cristin (self-archive)

All NTNU scientific publications must be archived in NTNU Open to ensure open access. To make your publication accessible in NTNU Open upload a full text version of the publication to Cristin.

Make sure you are logged in to Cristin.

If the article is not registered in Cristin, register the article. Remember to register project number in Cristin as well.

Locate the registration in Cristin.

Submission of full-text document

Submitting publications to an institutional repository is a two-step process:

1: The author uploads the document in Cristin

It is recommended that a post print version (final draft after peer review) of the scientific article is uploaded, since this is what most publishers permit.

2: The repository ensures publisher compliance

The institutional repository is responsible for ensuring compliance with copyright and licenses, and will make sure that publications are not made publ

Please contact a Cristin superuser or repository administrator at your institution if you have any questions regarding this process.

The document I am submitting is *

- VoR - Version of Record (Published version)
- AAM - Author's accepted manuscript (Postprint)
- Preprint

* = Mandatory

Indicate the version of the article you are submitting.

Upload the author's accepted manuscript (postprint version) if you are not sure that the publisher permits the publisher's final version to be archived.
