

Confirmation

NTNU

Norwegian University of Science and Technology

We confirm that Camilla Mult Marnor has been part of the reference group for the following course TMR4137 in the semester Autumn 2020

NTNU relies on the students' active participation in our quality assurance work and our effort to improve the total learning environment. The reference group is the most common form of student evaluation and is the main connection between the students and the course coordinator.

The reference group must have an ongoing dialogue with all the students taking the course and represents the students at reference group meetings. The reference group has to write a reference group report with proposals for measures, which are submitted to the course coordinator. Participation in reference groups is voluntary and unpaid.
